ALLENTOWN SCHOOL PROJECT
Students lend birds a helping hand

Pamela Almanzar, right, traces a bird stencil Friday at Ramos Elementary School in Allentown as part of a project with third-graders to prevent birds from injuring themselves by flying into windows that the animals may not recognize as a solid barrier.

Students lend birds a helping hand

Students lend birds a helping hand

Students lend birds a helping hand

Students lend birds a helping hand

Students lend birds a helping hand

Students lend birds a helping hand